

NATIONAL ONLINE RESOURCES

National Sexual Violence Resource Center [NSVRC]

www.nsvrc.org

Free

The National Sexual Violence Resource Center (NSVRC) provides a comprehensive web based library database to collect and distribute information, statistics, and resources related to all forms of sexual violence. It serves as a resource for state, territory, and tribal anti-sexual assault coalitions, rape crisis centers, allied organizations, community projects, policy-makers, researchers, government entities, media, educators, health care providers and others working to address and eliminate sexual assault. NSVRC is supported by a grant from the National Center on Injury Control, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

National Online Resource Center on Violence Against Women [VAWnet]

www.vawnet.org

Free

VAWnet, a project of the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence, provides a public web based collection of advocacy-based electronic resources on domestic and sexual violence. Materials include commissioned Applied Research Papers, Fact Sheets, Federal and State Funding Information and Program Development Materials. Special Emphasis is paid to traditionally marginalized communities and the intersections between oppressions. VAWnet is supported by a grant from the National Center on Injury Control, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Communities Against Violence Network [CAVNET]

www.cavnet2.org

Public access and Memberships Available

A recipient of a Ms. Foundation grant, CAVNET is a tax-exempt nonprofit based in Washington DC. Founded and operated by the former Special Counsel to the Violence Against Women Office at the Justice Department (a former prosecutor), CAVNET has developed an international network of professionals addressing domestic violence, sexual assault, rape, incest, stalking, juvenile justice, human rights, same sex violence, and crime victims with disabilities. CAVnet offers a collection of resources to the public that includes an issues directory and search function for documents and organizations.

Medline Plus

<http://medlineplus.gov/>

MEDLINE is the National Library of Medicine's database of references to more than 11 million articles published in 4600 biomedical journals. You will find information about articles on your topic (the author, title of the article, name of the journal, date published, page numbers) Many of the listings also have abstracts and links to the full article
Please note that most of the articles you will find listed in MEDLINE are written for health professionals.

National Criminal Justice Resource Service [NCJRS]

<http://www.ncjrs.org/>

NCJRS is a federally funded resource offering justice and substance abuse information to support research, policy, and program development worldwide. The NCJRS sponsoring agencies publish hundreds of reports and other information products each year to share with you and your colleagues. The types of reports and their content are designed to meet the broad range of interests in the field and the audiences who use them. Most of the titles are available online through the NCJRS Web site. NCJRS hosts one of the largest criminal and juvenile justice libraries and databases in the world, the NCJRS Abstracts Database. The collection, with holdings from the early 1970s to the present, contains more than 180,000 publications, reports, articles, and audiovisual products from the United States and around the world. These resources include statistics, research findings, program descriptions, congressional hearing transcripts, and training materials. The abstracts include the title, author, sponsoring agency, purchasing address, and journal citation, as well as a 100- to 200-word summary of the document's contents. Keyword and index term searches of the database are easy. With the search capabilities offered, you can quickly retrieve all the citations relevant to your question or area of interest.

PSYCH Info [Formerly PSYC Lit]

<http://www.apa.org/psycinfo/>

PsycINFO® is an electronic bibliographic database that provides abstracts and citations to the scholarly literature in the behavioral sciences and mental health. The database includes material of relevance to psychologists and professionals in related fields such as psychiatry, management, business, education, social science, neuroscience, law, medicine, and social work.

CINAHL

<http://www.cinahl.com>

CINAHL, the Cumulative Index to nursing and Allied Health Literature, provides authoritative coverage of the professional literature – journals, books, pamphlets, dissertations, audiovisuals, software, etc., -- in nursing and 17 allied health disciplines and also covers consumer health, biomedicine, alternative therapy, and health sciences librarianship. The database has full text from selected state nursing journals, standards of practice, practice acts, critical paths, research instruments, and government publications. Unique CINAHL records include legal cases, drug records, accreditation records, and clinical innovations. The database has over 545,000 records, with coverage from 1982 to the present, and is updated monthly.