Why Injury Costs? Single Compact Metric

- Problem size & risk assessment
- Priority setting & resource allocation
- Performance comparison
- Program evaluation
- Communication for education and advocacy

To Estimate Costs

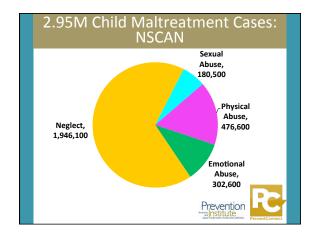

- Number of incidents
- Cost per incident
- Multiply those together
- Make the magnitude of the costs understandable

3 Categories of Crime

- Rape & sexual assault including unwanted touching and child sex abuse
- Other child maltreatment
- Other adult-on-adult domestic violence

Counting Incidents is Very Challenging

- Definitions & methods too restrictive or too inclusive
- Past-year domestic assault in NISVS is double total assaults in NCVS & 12 times the NCVS domestic assault count :: different recall periods favor NISVS undercounting
- YRBS, BRFSS don't even try to capture all incidents
- National Incidence Survey on CAN assumes all incidents are detected somewhere in the system

4,430,000 Rapes & Sexual Assaults

- NIPSVS female rape
- NCVS victimizations/victim & ratio M to F rape
- Sexual assaults/rape –Finkelhor (2009)
- National Survey of Children's Exposure to Violence
- NSCAN
- Prison & Jail Surveys

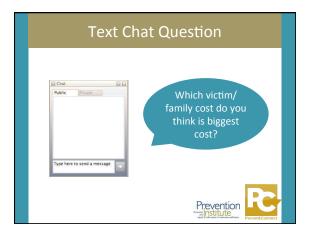

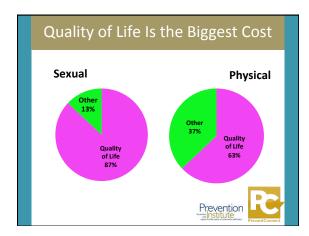

5,430,000 Adult Domestic Physical Assaults • NISVS with severe physical violence

Police CPS/Foster Care Adjudication Sanctioning Perpetrator Treatment Community Notification Fear & protection (e.g., alarms, mace) -- not costed Perpetrator earnings loss while confined

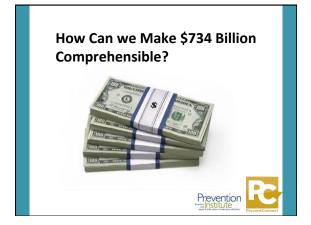

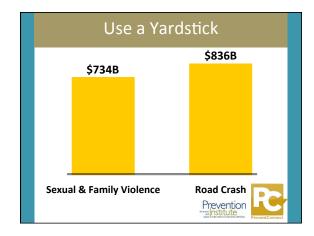

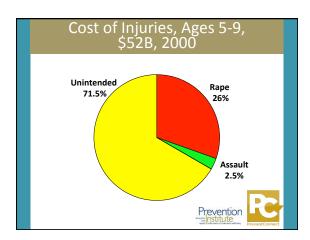

- Analyze jury awards for pain & suffering of crime victims
- Suits vs 3rd parties (poorly lit parking lots, hotels with security problems, bars serving intoxicated patrons)
- Exclude punitive damages
- Other unit costs from published sources, National Crime Victimization Survey, health care data

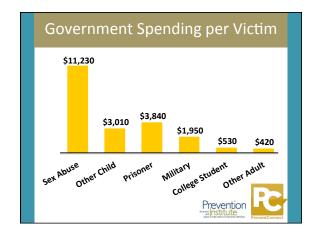

Divide by a Sensible Exposure Measure In 2010, sexual violence cost $1,520 per US resident Other child maltreatment cost $2,035 per child ($2,510 including child sexual abuse) IPV cost $485 per adult
