What is Resonance Network?

Resonance Network Purpose

imagine + practice

possible + necessary

Resonance Network Purpose

culture of violence → interdependence, worthiness, thriving

Engage individuals and communities through art and stories to envision and organize around a worldview that centers what we are for.

A fraternal letter to my son, and future generations ...
 This is a love letter. A letter of longing, of certainty. This letter is from your mother, from my soul. The new world, revived, stretched, green, abundant and growing... This world is coming from the song in your cells. You are leading us in creating the future you will thrive in. You come to this world with a promise - that you would give, you would jump into the unknown and the new world will catch you. As you hold me to this promise, I may resist. You've seen it - looking in to the old ways that don't work or make sense for anyone, returning to the comfort of harmful habits of harm, not paying to the labels and the boxes that justify inequality. I'm sorry. And as I speak,

Foster growth of —
and connectivity between—
Beloved Communities
as sites of learning,
experimentation, healing,
regeneration, and
leadership
development
to interrupt
the roots of violence.

Build and support
Collective Action
that replaces systems
of oppression and
violence
with policies and practices
of equity and justice
that will sustain
the emerging worldview.

Why is it useful to be in a community of people with a common vision?
