AKJ: That is such a great point, Enrica!

AKJ: People do not experience violence in silos so how can our prevention efforts be siloed?

KH: I like how you all list out each of the partner's role/activity. This is a great idea!

AKJ: @Kristen I like that too! It makes it clear and gives purpose

AKJ: If you are interested in hearing more about what this partnership looks like, please check this out: <http://www.preventconnect.org/2019/08/from-paid-leave-to-rent-stabilization-research-and-practice-on-strengthening-economic-security-for-violence-prevention/>

AKJ: Thank you @Rebecca — we appreciate you!

AA: Bye Rebecca!!

PB: Thank you Jenya. I like that.

MN: Thank you!

AKJ: Text Chat Question: What adaptations have you made to the way in which you communicate and engage with your community stakeholders and partners?

AKJ: I know for me and a collaborative I am involved in, we have committed to doing Zoom video calls so we still feel connected and can see each other.

SER: We already held many of our meetings via web conference. We've continued to do that and have found it's been fairly easy to keep folks engaged.

MM: We are geographically close to the 'county complots' for PPOs and other orders of protection. We have corporate sponsors and a relationship with law enforcement

TV: The picture is available on the PDF of the slides, Zoom of course had to decide not to show it :)

AKJ: @Sarah that's great that you have been able to keep people engaged.

AKJ: @Kristen lol that is me too! Send me a text. :)

AKJ: These bullet points make a big difference — I know I am much more happy to join a partnership when I am given this information up front!

AKJ: Collaboration Multiplier: <https://www.preventioninstitute.org/tools/collaboration-multiplier>

HC: I want that cartoon meeting space ha ha!

AKJ: Yes, great ambiance ha ha!

GG: Right?

AA: YEESSSSSS!!!!

AA: PREACH!!!!

AKJ: It sounds like finding a cool meeting space is one way to engage partners

AA: I SO appreciate your humor!

AA: YEESSSSS!!!! (And we need to continue challenging our funders. Food makes meetings ACCESSIBLE!)

JC: Yes - hungry people don't do well in meetings. Fundraisers just for meeting food?

KH: That's a great idea!!

KH: Thanks, @Alejandra. And yes, thank you for connecting food to accessibility also!

EB: Good idea to have a written joint statement

HC: Awesome!

KH: Thanks, Jackie!!

AKJ: Text Chat Question: How are you ensuring that racial justice and anti-oppression is foundational to your coalition building and action planning?

MM: We have sponsored several webinars on racial justice in the last few months in conjunction with other organizations

AKJ: @Michael thanks for sharing that — who have been some of your partners on those webinars?

MM: BLM EmbraceRace

HC: Where is that wheel from?

AA: WE HAVE ALSO STARTED A BLOG: ADDRESSING THE INEQUITIES IN OUR FIELD - <https://www.cpedv.org/new-blog-series-confronting-inequities-our-field>

SO: It's also essential to consider racial justice as we move into addressing economic justice. Racial inequity is at the foundation of folks being able to access opportunities and economic support. If we don't address that, we're skipping a necessary step.

GG: At GCADV, Undoing Racism work has been part of the initiative for the past ten years, but we recently decided that we want to take on a project that will really have an impact from an antiracist standpoint as well as align with our goals within the domestic violence movement. We are currently actually in the process of selecting what that project and focus will be. I am hoping for economic security personally.

TV: Yes, @Sarah! Such a great point.

KH: Intersecting Axes of Privilege, Domination, and Oppression: https://www.ncda.org/aws/NCDA/pt/sd/news_article/139052/_PARENT/CC_layout_details/false

HC: Thank you!

EB: <http://barhii.org/framework>

KH: Sure!

KH: Thank you, Enrica! We had found this graphic before but weren't sure where it came from!

GG: I'm trying to grab all these links but is there a list of them in the slides?

GG: Oh fantastic, thank you!

BH: thank you!!!

AA: IT'S ALSO IMPORTANT FOR US TO CHALLENGE THE WAY IN WHICH WHITE SUPREMACY SHOWS UP IN OUR WORK:

<https://www.showingupforracialjustice.org/white-supremacy-culture-characteristics.html>

HC: Thank you to everyone, this was a super helpful webinar!!

KH: Yes! Thanks, @Alejandra

JS: This is another great link, similar to what you shared, Alejandra! <https://coco-net.org/white-supremacy-culture-in-organizations/>

AA: PLEASE INVITE FOLKS OF COLOR TO THESE PRESENTATIONS!!!

LW: Thank you for a great and informative presentation

EB: Thanks for having us!

RMV: Thank you! Such great presentations!

JS: Thanks everyone!

CB: Thanks

DB: Thank you!

D: this was fantastic! thank you so much!
