

RICADV resources

Voices of Change video storytelling project

- About the project
- Watch the video series

As a collective of community partners in Rhode Island, we are sharing stories through the Voices of Change video series to shine a light on the organizations and communities leading transformative change efforts in our state.

Through community-led and community-centered solutions, we can improve quality of life for all people, support survivors of abuse and prevent violence before it happens in the first place.

Our vision: A world free from violence, poverty, racism and oppression. A vibrant, equitable Rhode Island, where everyone is safe and each person can thrive.

Movements and networks that support our evaluation practice

Vision Power Solutions

- A workshop series on community-driven planning for racial and climate justice

Resonance Network

- Resonance Network connects people who are creating a world rooted in deep relationship, vibrant community, and connection to our planet.

We Govern

- “We’re imagining a new way to govern. One where we all play a role in building a world where every person feels safe, valued, cared for, and inspired to participate. When #WeGovern, we all thrive.”
- The We Govern principles were collaboratively written by healers, leaders, artists, and storytellers across the United States, most of whom are queer, transgender, Black, Indigenous, and People of Color.

American Evaluation Association (AEA)

- Indigenous Peoples in Evaluation Topical Interest Group \(TIG\)
- Feminist Issues in Evaluation TIG
- Evaluation Network of Rhode Island – AEA affiliate