

What is Collaboration Math?
Enhancing Cross-Sector Partnerships for Preventing Violence Against Women.
Guest Presenters Brief Biography

Debbie McKenna, Master of Education

Debbie McKenna works at as the drug/violence prevention specialist at the Office of Safe and Drug-Free Schools, Safety Services Department in Wichita Public Schools. She has been a teacher for over twenty years and has served on several nonprofit boards.

Lori Haskett

Lori Haskett is the Section Director for the Injury Prevention and Disability & Health Office of Health Promotion, in the Kansas Department of Health and the Environment.

Kathy Williams, MSW

Kathy Williams, is the Executive Director of the Wichita Area Sexual Assault Center (<http://www.wichitasac.com/>). She has worked at WASAC for over ten years. The rape prevention education program has been a project of WASAC since 2000.

Ron Matson M.S., PhD

Ron Matson is the Associate Professor and Chair in Sociology at Wichita State University. Currently, he is doing research on school violence among 6th graders. Ron frequently speaks to groups in the community and does training in businesses and organizations throughout the region, especially on the topics of co-worker relationships and healthy work culture

Ronda Lusk, RN, BSN

Ronda is the Community Health Coordinator at Via Christi Regional Medical Center in Wichita Kansas. She has been a nurse for over 20 years, and began working on prevention programs in the Emergency Department in 1988. Via Christi has been a partner for the RPE Program since 2000.