Hi LaMika!

Hey Janet!

I have no volume

Awesome lineup!

I've got a connection!!

David Lee: Slides are now available to download at <http://preventconnect.org/2012/04/web-conference-good-solution-solves-multiple-problems/>

Where can I find your definition of prevention?

What about early intervention in risk for perpetration?

That, to my mind, is absolutely primary prevention.

Except CDC uses secondary prevention as after abuse has already been perpetrated...

I think you're confusing primary and secondary prevention with universal and selected interventions.

Across the spectrum as well as the continuum.

not all of the slides are posted on website? the last few pages are not there

Prevention Institute: NSVRC: <http://www.nsvrc.org/>

Prevention Institute: Interviews with Innovative Efforts:

<http://www.preventconnect.org/mail/newsletter/NSVRCNewsletter2012Part2.html>

How many of us represent coalitions (formal or informal) who exist for the purposes of supporting communities

I do

I do too.

@Tammy, the majority of what we do revolves around supporting our member dv/sa programs in Wyoming communities

I do too Tammy

I do.

Me, too!

I do too.

Prevention Institute: Interviews with Innovative Efforts:
<http://www.preventconnect.org/mail/newsletter/NSVRCNewsletter2012Part2.html>

Is there research behind the innovative strategies? funding often requires "evidence-based" programming

Thanks for the shout out, David~

Prevention Institute: How does mobilizing and leadership lead to prevent Sexual and Domestic Violence?

Go to www.odvn.org, click on prevention, click on "online prevention toolkit" and click on "empowerment evaluation toolkit"

Prevention Institute: Understanding Evidence:
http://www.cdc.gov/ViolencePrevention/pub/UnderstandingEvidence_prt1.html

Role modeling

changing social norms

a greater sense of accountability

i think you have to see change coming from your peers

ownership of behaviors and actions

Community ownership

It may not prevent it in the short term, but in the long term leadership development - developing leaders who promote healthy relationships may lead to prevention leadership is building expertise, point people, local experts

can involve the whole community

identifying leadership in peer groups and training them in changing social norms spreads to the rest of the peer group, as well as training in bystander intervention

Mobilizing communities has the potential for movement building. Couple leadership and mobilizing...

mobilizing and developing leaders empowers people to challenge norms and disrupt unhealthy behaviors by promoting healthier behaviors

I have a blank screen

David Lee: @Katie click on the tab Good Solutions on the top f the screen

that's what's up, but the slide isn't there

David Lee: @Katie you might log out and rejoin the meeting

David Lee: <http://www.photovoice.org/> participatory photography for social change

There have been some fantastic PhotoVoice projects in Wyoming! They have been very impactful.

Prevention Institute: Voices of Women: <http://www.voicesofwomen.org/>

What is the age range of the women you work with?

cultural competency is so vital

I agree, Katie. It is a work in process for us and our programs. In the case of a dv shelter can mean the difference between life and death.

David Lee: Listen to the PreventConnect podcast with Christine about Camp Peaceworks

<http://preventconnect.org/2012/01/camp-peaceworks/>

Prevention Institute: Berks Women in Crisis: <http://www.berkswomenincrisis.org/>

Build it and the funding will come! What a lesson!

Chad Sniffen: <http://www.paulkivel.com/>

David Lee: Paul Kivel's Making the Peace

<http://www.paulkivel.com/index.php/bookstore/detail/12-violence-prevention/flypage/18-making-the-peace?sef=hcfp>

I love hearing about faith community involvement

Plus we learn tons from the youth!!!

How long does the camp session last?

David Lee: Here is a PreventConnect video of a Paul Kivel interview

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gQuBshXN-Oo>

It is one week, but the staff of BWIC continue to meet monthly to engage the youth in on-going community action and social justice.

Christine, you & BWIC rock!!! XOXO, Laura from SJMC/RYVP

David Lee: Slides from today's web conference can be found at <http://preventconnect.org/2012/04/web-conference-good-solution-solves-multiple-problems/>

What types of things do you do for classism on day 5?

Young people are very honest.

how would we get parents to allow their youth to go if they don't get it themselves?

I'd like to add that we really are open to feedback from the youth each and every day at camp. We've often changed the activities overnight. Having youth facilitators and looking each day for opportunities to provide youth campers with leadership opportunities is essential.

I'm still sitting here absorbing the awesomeness of this program. I'm in intellectual shock. We're working on this in a similar but different way, and this really speaks to me. Love it also, what exactly is adultism, especially when the culture of the States is very much focused on worshipping the young? is it in terms of the premise that adults always know what they are talking about? that's the only way I could see that ism in practice.

In the monthly meetings with the youth, what social justice projects do they work on?

Officially it is defined as: Adultism – the systematic exploitation, mistreatment, and abuse of young people by adults.

Okay. That makes sense now. Thanks.

you're welcome!

Spread of engagement?

Nicola - the youth choose. Sometimes it is how to start a GSA in their school, the conference Christine mentioned was one, community rallies are another....

It sounds like adultism would encompass all the other isms. Does it make sense to break it out that way?

Christine Gilfillan: Thanks, Denise!

Sure Christine - you can't really talk and type at the same time

Christine Gilfillan: Oh, yes it does! WE have to be mindful, though... (to Onyeka)

Camp has changed my life!

Thank You!

This was so enlightening!
very interesting, thank you.

bring camp to NJ! I'm all in Thanks!

To be mindful of what? (To Christine)

Bye all - I wish each of you could get to experience camp -- it really is amazing!!

Christine Gilfillan: how we present adultism!

Too bad this is ending-I would love to hear more on the presentation of adultism

Read Paul Kivel - he covers it really well!

Okay. Thanks, Denise.

these preventconnect webinars are wonderful...thanks so much everyone! great info and very inspiring...I can't wait to incorporate some of these ideas into the work we're doing here in Bucks County, PA
